The Clever Weaver Bird.

An interesting bird is the "wear er." It seems to be foud of making enormous nests merely for the purpose of exercise in the art of construction. Supply these birds with strings and straw, and they will use them up rapidly, and their fabric is woven with a perfectness that is astonishing. In some countries it is the custom of the weaver birds to colonize and build one big flat topped platform, two or three yards across, which is so admirably put together as to shed the rain as well as any roof could do. STATE FAIR SHOW OF '17 MOTOR CARS

Auto Exposition to Be Opened on Sept. 4.

FIRST VIEW OF NEW MODELS

Visitors to Indiana Fair Will See the New Cars Months Before They Are Shown Elsewhere.

The greatest autumn automobile show in the United States is that staged by the Indianapolis Automobile Trade association and it will be held again in connection with the Indiana state fair the week of Sept. 4. It will be on the same mammoth scale which has characterized it for the last two years and it will display the motor cars for 1917 months before they are exhibited in the winter

The big motor show at the Indiana fair has established itself as the greatest autumn exposition of its kind in the country. Practically every prominent make and model is represented, including touring, roadsters and closed cars, and with them are to be seen the great array of tires and other accessories.

Never in the history of the motor car industry have these vehicles reached such perfection as those that are being made for next year. Four, six and twin-six motors, electric starting and lighting, clover leaf and other seating plans, and luxuriant appointments and graceful designs that were unknown two or three years ago make the cars for 1917 a revelation.

The motor show gives especial advantages for seeing and comparing the different makes in one great display. Because of its size, there is no building trailable on the Indiana fair ground large enough to house the motor show, and the coming display will be seen in an enormous tent. Since no additional admission is charged, practically all of the 200,000 visitors to the state fair will see the auto show.

Forced to Surrender.

The young man had asked the lather for his daughter and been refused.

"Then you will not give me Jane?" he hoarsely demanded. "I didn't speak in Volapuk, did

I?" sneered Jane's father. The young man paused at the

"I am considered a good looking fellow," he said. "Ladies turn and stare after me as I pass along the street. Your cook smiled at me tonight while I lingered at the side door. I returned the smile. Now I will follow up this favorable im-cook. In a week we will elope!"

The old man turned pale. "Don't talk like that!" he gasped. "You wouldn't be cruel enough to rob us of our cook! No, no! Not another word! Janeais yours!"---Cleveland Plain Dealer.

An Indefinite Number.

Three-year-old Andrew was in a rather petulant mood, and in order to restore his customary good humor his mother promised him some preserved strawberries if he would be a good boy. Calling a servant, she said:

"Jennie, please give Andrew about four strawberries."

Jennie proceeded to fulfill the wish of her mistress and counted out the berries, "One, two, three,

"I want five," protested the child. "But your mother said four," said Jennie. "Mamma said 'about four,' " re-
